Money will be Refunded. Try one and you will use no other.

For sanitary reasons shave yourself, and avoid the danger of skin diseases. It is a pleasure if done correctly. But you cannot do it without a "Curley" safety razor. Money refunded if not satisfactory. "Curley's" razor is not a scraper. It is like an ordinary razor, with the advantage that any one can shave safely. Not one person in 10,000 shaves correctly. See directions. We respectfully ask you to try our razor. Ten days time will be given. Any one who thinks he cannot shave himself is mistaken, he does a thousand more difficult things. Follow instructions and we guarantee success.

TERRITORIAL SUPREME COURT.

Three Opinions Handed Down—Judgment of Lower Courts Affirmed in Two Cases—One Case Reversed and Remanded.

The territorial supreme court met this morning at 10 o'clock with all members of the bench present. Opinions were handed down in cases Nos. 728, 735 and 784.

In case No. 728, Frederick Scholle, plaintiff in error, vs. Maximiliano Pino, defendant in error, error to the district court of Bernalillo county, an opinion was handed down by Associate Justice Leland, which was concurred in by Chief Justice Mills and Associate Justices McFie, Crumpacker and Parker, in which the judgment of the lower court was affirmed, and the case was remanded to the district court. The case was somewhat peculiar in that the plaintiff, Scholle, had a judgment in Valencia county against the defendant, Pino; the defendant, Pino, had a judgment against the plaintiff, Scholle, in Bernalillo county, and in the lower court the judgment was in favor of the defendant, Pino, but as the plaintiff had prayed for no setoff in the lower court, no setoff was allowed. On an appeal to the Supreme court a setoff was prayed for by the plaintiff and it was allowed, in addition to affirming the judgment rendered by the inferior court. The court, in rendering the opinion, prepared the following syllabus: "Judgments in cross-sections may be setoff, the one against the other, when the parties in interest are the same, on motion addressed to the court in which one or both of the actions is pending. If, after both such judgments or claims are matured, one party assigns his judgment or claim, such setoff will be allowed notwithstanding such assignment." N. R. Field for the plaintiff; Warren, Ferguson and Gillett for the defendant.

In case No. 735, Price & Walker, plaintiffs in error, vs. W. H. Weed et al., defendant in error, error to the District court of Lincoln county, an opinion was handed down by Associate Justice Leland, which was concurred in by the other members of the court. In which the judgment of the lower court was affirmed with costs of the suit. In the lower court a judgment was rendered in favor of W. H. Weed et al. for the recovery of a certain amount of money. This action was in assumpsit based on a simple written contract, and the Supreme court in rendering the opinion, said: "Courts will not admit evidence on the trial of an action based on a written contract, the effect of which would be to vary its terms from their plain intent and meaning. When such evidence is inadvertently permitted to go to the jury, it is the duty of the court to withdraw such evidence." J. Y. Hewitt, for plaintiffs; J. E. Wharton for defendants.

In case No. 784, Territory of New Mexico, appellee, vs. Beltran Williams, appellant, appeal from Dona Ana county, an opinion was handed down by Associate Justice Leland, in which the other members of the court, with the exception of Associate Justice McFie, who did not sit in the case, concurred. The judgment of the lower court was reversed and the case remanded for new trial. This case came to the superior court on an appeal from the district court of Dona Ana county, in which the appellant was convicted of perjury, and the court in rendering the opinion, said: "The evidence of one witness alone, not corroborated by any other evidence, is insufficient to warrant a conviction on a charge of perjury." E. L. Bartlett for the appellee; G. F. Bonham for the appellant.

Case No. 787, Territory of New Mexico, appellee, vs. Michael Wolfe et al., appellants, appeal from Socorro county, was argued and submitted. E. L. Bartlett for the appellee; E. V. Chaves and Francis Buchanan for the appellants. At noon today the court took a recess for several days. No more cases will be heard for the present, and the judges will spend the time from day to day in deciding cases which have been argued and in handing down opinions. An adjournment of the court will be held later in the year.

MINOR CITY TOPICS.

A carload of coffee came in last night on the D. & G. from New York to southern ports.

Carrying concealed weapons is unlawful. Here is a hint to the sheriff and his deputies and the city marshal and police.

The sidewalks fronting the Spiegelberg property on Palace avenue are in very bad condition and should be repaired.

U. S. weather bureau forecast for New Mexico: Fair, with occasional showers; warmer Saturday morning in northern portion.

The much needed work of cleaning and repairing the carriage ways of the Capital City is steadily progressing, much to the gratification of property owners.

New Mexico peaches are in demand in the Colorado market at much higher prices than last year. Late frosts seriously nipped the peaches in the territorial state.

Word has been received from Arthur Griffin most emphatically denying that he was buried on Cuban soil. "Pete" has been very sick, but is now almost entirely recovered.

Last evening's D. & R. G. was an hour and a half late because of the engine "running hot" north of Antonito so that at that station another engine had to be wired for at Alamosa.

Santa Fe merchants say that business holds steadily well, and there being no marked ups or downs or violent fluctuations, they generally know how things are coming in a financial way.

Yesterday the thermometer at the local weather bureau registered as follows: Maximum temperature, 73 degrees at 3:50 p. m.; minimum, 58 degrees at 2:30 a. m. The mean temperature for the 24 hours was 66 degrees.

Once more permit the New Mexican to hint that the merchants of Santa Fe should employ all the means in their power to cultivate the trade of the Golden Cockerel mining district. It is a yellow plum well worth struggling for.

St. Michael's college, the oldest and one of the best educational institutions in New Mexico, is filling up with scholars for the coming school year. The college justly enjoys a fine reputation as an educational institution of the first class.

The smelting plant of the Mary Mining & Smelting Company, at Cerrillos, is complete and perfect in all respects. The mine owners of the Cockerel and south Santa Fe districts hope that the unfortunate litigation troubles of the company will soon be finally disposed of, and that its fine reduction establishment will be blown in for a long and successful run.

The 1st regiment band is playing these days without the services of two valuable members, baritone and cornet players, who are soldiering at Fort Whipple. But they are expected back in three or four weeks. There are 11 men now in the band viz.: two cornets, two altos, one clarinet, one valve trombone, two tubas and three men in the battery.

The Santa Fe train due at 2:10 this morning did not arrive until 10:15 a. m. The delay, as near as can be ascertained, was due to a washout on the Santa Fe-Pacific some distance west of Albuquerque.

District Clerk Bergere has received a record typewriter for use in his office. The machine is a beauty, and in a mechanical way almost a wonder.

Warren Graham, of Cerrillos, has sold out his liquor business at Madrid and Cerrillos to his brother, Ike Graham, who has just returned from Klondike with a bag or two of gold dust.

PERSONAL MENTION.

R. G. Bell, of Raton, is in the city visiting. He stops at the Bon Ton.

J. F. Remaugh, of St. Louis, is a visitor in the city, registered at the Palace hotel.

Miss Shackleton, of Espanola, visited Santa Fe on a shopping trip today, registering at the Claire.

Mrs. B. M. Read, wife of the well known Santa Fe attorney, is visiting her parents in Mora.

Carlos Romero, a sheep man from Lamy, is in the city on business. He stops at the Bon Ton.

Mrs. F. P. Crichton returned last evening from Antonito, where she has been enjoying a visit with relatives.

L. W. Elledge, of Duncan, A. T., is registered at the Claire, visiting Santa Fe to look after business matters.

Hon. Alejandro Sandoval, one of the leading citizens of Albuquerque, is a Santa Fe visitor registered at the Palace hotel. Sandoval holds the important office of collector of Bernalillo county.

Hon. T. S. Hubbell, the efficient and popular sheriff of Bernalillo county, is in the city on business, making headquarters at the Palace hotel.

Horton Moore, Esq., of Albuquerque, is in the city attending to business before the territorial supreme court. He is the Santa Fe home while in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Washburn and child, of Albuquerque, are guests at the Palace hotel. Mr. Washburn is one of the leading business men of the Duke city.

First Lieutenant Wm. E. Griffin, of Troop E of the "Rough Riders," who has been very ill with malarial fever, is steadily improving and expects to be home at an early date.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Sheridan left this afternoon for Silver City. Mr. Sheridan makes the trip to look after business connected with the United States marshal's office, and Mrs. Sheridan will visit some time with her parents.

Mr. Robert J. Jessup, an experienced newspaper man, has arrived and has taken a position on the editorial force of the New Mexican. Mr. Jessup has been connected for five years in various capacities with the Denver dailies and was for five years city editor of the El Paso Herald.

Sergeant Fred C. Wesley, of Troop E of the "Rough Riders," writes from Camp Wikoff, that he is improving, but that his wounded arm is still stiff and he cannot use it in the manual of arms. He has had enough of war fighting and bloodshed for a while and is anxious to return to Santa Fe and settle down.

Mrs. S. M. Cotton and Miss Jeffries, of the local school, are back from a 30 days' trip to Omaha and other points where they have been visiting. They were delighted with the Omaha exposition which exceeded their expectations. The relief and pleasures of the trip will enable them to re-enter the labors of their positions with renewed zest and vigor.

Professor E. L. Hewitt, formerly superintendent of the training department of the Greeley Normal school and now about to assume the duties of president of the Normal school at Las Vegas, is visiting his numerous friends in Santa Fe and makes headquarters at the Claire. Professor Hewitt is very much pleased with the outlook of the Normal school over at the Meadow City. He says that no school of the class in the country has a larger or more competent corps of teachers.

George Marsh, who has been temporarily employed as a writer on the New Mexican, expects to leave for Bland about the 1st of September to look after contemplated development work on the Little Mollie mine, in which he is largely interested. Mr. Marsh says that the proposed establishment of a cyanide custom mill in the Golden Cockerel will make even the poorest low grade prospect in the district valuable and he emphatically denies that the Little Mollie is in the class last mentioned.

Colonel R. E. Twitchell has been to Espanola today looking after his orchard at that place. He is in receipt of a message from Mrs. Twitchell announcing a steady improvement in her condition which will be gratifying news to her many friends in Santa Fe.

The local railroad community learns with pleasure of the promotion of E. F. Lark, chief clerk of W. B. Biddle, freight traffic manager of the Santa Fe at Chicago, to the general agency at Pittsburg. This is a marked honor as eastern agencies of the size of Pittsburg call only for able men. Mr. Lark is in town for a few days, leaving for the east Sunday night.

G. A. Richardson, one of the regents of the New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts, is in the city from Roswell. Mr. Richardson will attend a meeting to be held by the board at Las Cruces, and go thence to Santa Fe, where he has cases for hearing before the Territorial Supreme court.—El Paso Herald.

Jose A. Montoya, of Bernalillo, nephew of Hon. Pedro Castillo, and Miss Carlota Gonzales, were married in the church of the Immaculate Conception at Albuquerque yesterday. A large number of the friends of the young couple witnessed the ceremony, and extended their congratulations and good wishes. The newly married couple will make their home on a farm near Bernalillo.

Charles Catron, who has been taking the Omaha exposition and other points of interest east of New Mexico during the past three weeks, arrived home last evening. He expects to start for Leland Stanford university, where he is a student, within a day or two.

Hon. F. W. Clancy, the popular Republican mayor of this city, came in from Santa Fe last night, where he had been on important matters before the territorial supreme court the past few days.—Albuquerque Citizen.

Hon. H. B. Ferguson, who was at Santa Fe on legal matters connected with the Garcia Candelaria case before the Supreme court, returned to the city last night.—Albuquerque Citizen.

Robert C. Gortner, the bright young attorney, who has been on a visit to his old Indiana home in Goshen Ind., for the past month, returned last evening to the Capital city.

Mrs. Charles W. Greene and daughter, Mrs. T. W. Spencer, arrived yesterday from Eddy, N. M., and will make their home in El Paso.—El Paso Times.

James D. May and Miss Laura D. May, are in the city, the former from Bland and the latter from Santa Fe.—Albuquerque Citizen.

THE FAMOUS "ROUGH RIDERS."

About to Be Mustered Out of the Volunteer Army—Four Troops Are from New Mexico—Will Be Accorded An Enthusiastic Welcome Home.

The NEW MEXICAN contained the positive announcement from Washington yesterday that the famous "Rough Riders," otherwise known as "Teddy's Terror," would be mustered out of the United States volunteer army and given transportation to their respective homes in the course of a few more days.

It is understood that this action is in strict conformity with the earnest wishes of Colonel Roosevelt and virtually all of the soldiers of his regiment. The "Rough Riders" enlisted in the volunteer army with the avowed purpose of gaining distinction and glory as fighters in the service of the grand American Republic. They have more than achieved that lofty ambition. Their patriotic fervor and deeds of daring in actual battle justly entitle them to be crowned as heroes, and the story of their superb gallantry will live as long as the annals of the republic are preserved.

But, having enlisted with a definite and serious object, that object having been grandly accomplished, and not aspiring to pose as dress parade soldiers, the "Rough Riders" naturally desire to be promptly mustered out.

Since over 500 of the brave men are residents of New Mexico, nearly one entire troop belonging in Santa Fe, the mustering out and home coming of the "Rough Riders" will of course be an event of much more than ordinary moment in this territory.

The people of this territory feel a keen sense of personal pride in the valor and prowess of these intrepid men and will accord them a welcome home that will only be surpassed in patriotic enthusiasm by the hearty greeting. Troops B, F, G, H and I, of this regiment, commanded respectively by Captains Muller, Luna, Llewellyn, Curry and Lieutenant Wientge, of New Mexico, were all mustered in at Santa Fe last April, and the people of New Mexico would be very much gratified if the War department should decide to have these troops finally mustered out at the historic capital. It would be a graceful act.

In any event Santa Fe will cordially and enthusiastically join the rest of the territory in tendering a grand ovation to the boys of the troops mentioned when they reach home and the comfortable positions they left to defend the country's flag will be promptly restored to them.

The people of Santa Fe will take particular delight in bestowing honors upon the gallant men of Troop E, commanded by Captain Muller, with W. E. Griffin and Sherrard Coleman as lieutenants, nearly all of whom are residents of this city, six being attached to the New Mexican, and all of whom saw perilous service before Santiago. Preparations for the fitting reception of this troop in Santa Fe should immediately be made.

APPROACHING HORTICULTURAL FAIR.

An Exhibition Promised That Will Be Most Creditable to New Mexico—Reduced Rates to Santa Fe.

The approaching fair of the Horticultural Society, scheduled to take place in Santa Fe, on September 7, 8 and 9, promises to be an event of much more than ordinary importance to those engaged in the culture of fruits, flowers and vegetables in this resourceful territory, and the capable committees having the exhibition in charge should be accorded, without asking, the cordial cooperation of the entire business community of the Capital City.

In order that the fair may blossom and bloom like a rose, as it did last year, it is absolutely necessary that the people of Santa Fe enthusiastically unite in its support. This observation is not confined in its application to persons engaged exclusively in the horticultural industry, but is meant to apply to all the good people of this city and locality. The exhibition will far exceed in extent and variety the fair of last autumn, the exhibition building will be a tower of beauty and fragrance, and the railroads coming into the city all offer temptingly low rates to persons who attend the fair. Hence the reasons are multiple why the attendance should be much larger than last year.

Also Wanted in New Mexico.

Jose Marquez was before U. S. Commissioner Sexton at El Paso, Tex., on Tuesday last, for a hearing regarding the charge of smuggling, for which he was arrested.

He was bound over to the federal grand jury in the sum of $750 and released.

Soon after making bond Marquez was re-arrested by Deputy Sheriff Diamond Dick and jailed.

He is wanted in New Mexico to answer the charge of rape and will be taken there for trial as soon as his case in the Texas court has been disposed of.

Forty Pounds of Trout Daily.

Messrs. Edward R. Linnen and Edward G. Taylor returned last night from a 60 days' fishing trip through the Wagon Wheel Gap country. They had a right enjoyable time, camping out, "taking in" the magnificent scenery, and reeling in the festive trout at a really alarming rate. Mr. Taylor says the catch averaged 40 pounds per day, whereby the people of the neighborhood profited as the distinguished disciples of Isaac Walton found their powers of digestion hardly up to the rate of catch.

Messrs. Linnen and Taylor brought as far as Espanola 75 pounds of fine trout carefully done up in cotton and boxed. It was their intention to give their Santa Fe friends a trout, but unfortunately yesterday was hot, and the interior of the cars hotter, ice was not obtainable, and the result was that when Espanola was reached, the trout were "on the go." Mr. Taylor gave a sigh as he kicked the box off the car platform into the sand, and hoped the friends in Santa Fe would "bear up bravely under the bereavement," but he was somewhat relieved to feel that the family of the first pueblo Indian that came along would enjoy a feast. The Indian appetite does not pall at such trifles as partially decomposed trout. The fishermen are wearing ideal bronze countenances, and have profited evidently in every way by their outing. Their many friends are resignedly awaiting the usual orthodox flood of highly ornamental fish stories.
